Help Build a More Resilient Community!

On March 4, over 100 organizations were offered opportunities to learn what disaster resiliency/vulnerability is and how disasters can impact the at risk populations they serve, as well as their staff, volunteers, clients, vendors and community stakeholders. Requests were made for a followup session with more of a practical template/tools focus.

In this Brown Bag session, participants will be provided with the tools needed to develop a written plan for disaster response and recovery. Using templates, participants will be guided through the key elements to consider when putting together a plan for their program/organization. An all hazards approach (good for all types of disasters) will be emphasized.

Please note: a session will also be offered in Brandon during fall 2009.
